

So there

I think dogs should be able to roam Shell Island and other any island out there. I take my min-pin and 4-pound Yorkie every time we go out in our boat. Just try and leave my min-pin — from the time the ice cubes hit the cooler, he is ready. I aim for a fun time. We have no little ones, so these are our kids and well-behaved they are. We go far enough out and try not to offend those who are not so dog friendly. In fact, I've been offended by some people worse than my dogs could ever be. So there.
